Whereas, The death of our Brother C. E. Kirk, falls like a dark shadow upon our hearts, bringing to each one a sense of personal bereavement, and DeLand Deluged Daytonas.

A great many people from DeLand visited Daytona last week to witness the races. One livermen sent 18 horses, nine teams, across the country, each team carrying from six to nine persons. Others went by train, and many in their own conveyances probably as many as 250 persons from DeLand visited Daytona during the week. Stetson University was well represented by students, who did not fail to make their presence known with their college yells.

Wreck at the Junction.

The little waiting room at DeLand Junction was more or less demolished Monday night. A freight train tried to back onto the DeLand branch line to get out of the way of a passenger; the wrong switch was turned and the freight backed over the bumpers and into the depot. A negro was somewhat hurt, but not seriously. A lad was asleep under a table in the waiting room. The table was knocked clear across the room, and the lad escaped unhurt.

All-Right Oranges.

A gentleman here for the winter recently sent several boxes of oranges, tangerines, grapefruit and kumquats to friends in New England, which were furnished and packed by Mr. J. H. Wilmhurst, a popular citizen and fruit grower of this city.

Following is a copy of letter received from one of the recipients:

"The box of oranges, etc., has arrived in perfect condition; and Mrs. T. and I have feasted our eyes, and incidentally, our palates, on the delicious fruit. The box is a joy to look upon—even that each separate piece is so perfect, and the combination of color and sizes with the leaves makes it a vision for an artist. What do you call the little oranges in bunches? I ate one this morning, skin and all, and am still alive. If nothing happens I may partake of another tomorrow morning. Thank you so much for them."

Mr. Williams of Daytona, an artist of no small ability, is visiting his friend, Mr. E. B. Solomon, in DeLand.

AGAIN IN THE LINE-LIGHT

Mrs. Jernegan is Suing the Doctor for Divorce.

Chicago Inter-Ocean, Jan. 24. St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 23. Mrs. Betsy Evelyn Jernegan has filed suit for divorce from Prescott Ford Jernegan, alleging desertion.

The Rev. Mr. Jernegan, the defendant in the suit, was identified some years ago with a scheme to extract gold from sea water. He had fine offices in Boston and a "plant" for getting the gold at Lubec, Me. He had formerly been a Baptist minister in Florida, and his title gave investors confidence in his claim, and for a few months gold poured into his coffers.

During this time his plant on the Maine coast was actually producing gold, which was sent to the United States assay office and sold. Many of these bricks were worth from $1,200 to $2,000. A company was organized, with a capital stock of $10,000,000, and hundreds of thousands of shares were sold at $1 each.

Then Jernegan disappeared.

Letter to
Wm. A. Allen,
DeLand, Fla.

Dear Sir: Would you like to hear of a 20-year paint?

Mr. James A. O'Neill's house, Henderson, N. C., was painted 20 years ago with Devco lead-and-zinc, and never painted again till last year: it then looked better than common paint in half that time.

The reason is: Devco is all paint and true paint; while the common paints are part true and part false. Don't pay to monkey with paint.

And Devco costs less than any of 'em; not by the gallon, of course; by the house and year. That's how reckon it. Go by the name.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devco & Co.
